We Know Service

Top Notch has set standards in our industry by achieving the highest levels of customer service. We personally check and recheck every step in our process, making sure that your order is defect-free, complete, safely packed and optimally routed to you. In our industry, no one can match our same-day shipping and 99%+ order accuracy rate!

That's just one way we prove that We Know Service. Top Notch also offers you the architectural hardware industry's most complete product inventory, the expertise of a staff with an average of 15 years of experience, 12½ hours of highly personalized support a day and three strategic distribution points.

Now, we've taken We Know Service one step further with a customer support program called TND is Me! Because fulfilling all of your needs and expectations really comes down to a one-to-one relationship. "You and me, partners in success."
